

CHEREVICHKIOTVICHKI
FOR Yohji Yamamoto

March, 2019

Continuing their now well-established collaboration and progressing into their 7th season working together, Yohji Yamamoto and Cherevichkiotvichki's Victoria Andrejeva explore their mutual interest and passion for the art of primitive gestures.

For this AW 2019 Femme collection the tactile notion of wrapping and draping fabric are combined with unrivalled shoe making craftsmanship from the Marche region in Italy, where every piece is hand-made using a Blake construction and traditional lasting techniques.

Two styles created for this season's collaboration incorporate a lengthened quarter which extends and wraps around the foot, eliminating the necessity for generic lacing and creating dynamic lines in the construction. The third style, a Chelsea boot, has been formed on a new last specially developed for this Yohji Yamamoto collaboration. The pointier shape and presence of wool elastic marry perfectly with the visceral deconstructive techniques that Yohji Yamamoto is so well renowned for.

The collaboration pieces will be exclusively available in the Yohji Yamamoto stores and selected boutiques worldwide in the the Summer 2019.
