AUCTION

LOT NR. 1 - "THE MAKER'S ARMS"

18 August, 2021

"The Maker's Arms" is an anthem embodied in a physical form. A memory postcard from the very first collection created by Victoria Andrejeva. The first of 10 handmade unique anniversary lots to be auctioned off over the coming months.

"Each piece carries a symbolic value as we travel through the time of our existence. A decade..."

V. Andrejeva, CHEREVICHKIOTVICHKI

The process began with a distinct chiselled replica of Andrejeva's arms. The leather, found in the studio was moulded over the cast and stitched following joint lines and veins. The visible stitches emphasize the authenticity of the artistic integrity that have had manifested in Cherevichkiotvicki House over the past 10 years. The hands have a relaxed pose with fingers spread in a natural asymmetrical way, as if frozen in anticipation of starting work on a new piece.

The found bicycle chain is holding the pair together strong, as a serpent of wisdom signifying the presence of the mind and its mechanical processes. This infinite development that continuously celebrates the relationship between the physical and the spiritual worlds of a human life.

"The Maker's Arms" is a single piece with no replica ever to be reproduced.
